A BRILLIANT GATHERING OF PLAYERS ON THE SEABRIGHT LINKS.

TRAVIS WINS THE GROSS SCORE MEDAL AND

MAKES A NEW COMPETITIVE RECORD-

DOUND TO DAVIS DRAWINGS. Another medal for Travis and a new competitive record for the links were the features of the third annual tournament of the Scabright Golf Club yesterday. If the promise of the opening play is fulfilled, the contest will be one of the most brilliant of the midsummer season. The fine new clubhouse, erected this spring, was taxed to its utmost to provide accommodations for the seventy or more players who participated in the preliminary round. Almost every club in the metropolitan district was represented, and, notwithstanding the heat, the play was unusually fast. Of the sixtynine who finished the morning play, thirty-two returned cards under 100. The limit of the qualifying round for the first sixteen was 93, which indicates something of the quality of the golf displayed.

The morning was devoted to medal play of eighteen holes, in which the first sixteen were eligthle to meet later at match play for the Scabright Cup, and the second sixteen for a consolation cup. A. Potts and Albert Symington took charge of the work of sending the pairs off, and it was largely due to their efforts that so large a field was managed without annoying delays.

As usual. Travis scored the best card in the qualifying round, and received a handsome gold medal. His score was 84. As the links have undergone extensive improvements of late, this must now be considered the amafeur competitive record.

deep-chested, broad-shouldered youth, with the swing of a giant and a style that recalls that of won the recent tourney at Newburg given by the although the roadway was finished some time a Powelton Golf Club. He is a member of the North it was deemed wise to keep it closed until an it Jersey Country Club, of Paterson, and seems to possess an aptitude for golf that may make things interesting for the cracks before the season closes. If it had not been for a weak put on the sixteenth green, where the hall hung on the lip of the cup, he would have been tied with Travis for the grossscore medal. His card was:

Tyng, the winner of last year's tournament, fin-shed in third place. Then came Walthew, of Lakewood, who has been making marked improvement of late, and George E. Armstrong, captain of the Staten Island Cricket Club. Armstrong got a 37 on the second nine holes, which was the best score made for that portion of the links during the day. Mennies and the last nine holes in 2s, and the first sixteen there was a to between Burdette O'Connar, of the Staten Island Cricket Chie, Duncan Edwards, of Dyker Meadow, and A. De Witt Coehrane, of St. Andrews. In the play-off Edwards won. The other two dropped into the consolation sixteen.

It was rather an unfortunate luck of the draw part made Trayls and Graham opponents in the first match-play round, for their medial scores indicated a closeness of skill that would have minde a fine contest for the linals. Travis had a bit the better of Graham in putting and won by 2 up and 1 to go. H. P. Toler was defeated by voung John Reid, of the Yale golf team, by 3 up and 4 to play, while Tyng won from Boblen, the Philadelphia player, by exactly the same score. Armstrong led O'Connor from the outst and finished an easy winner. Menzies, who had for his opponent in this round J. J. Blair, je. of Princeton, also won with-out difficulty.

With the recent chanses, the course measures $4,130 yards. "Willle" Norton, the club's professional, holds the professional record for it of 16. The tournament is to be continued to-day, with the match-play rounds in both the Scabright and consolation cury closes, and on Monday the affair will be brought to an end with an open handlean. The drawings to-day for the second round of the Scabright cup class are Travis and Reid, Menzies and Tyng, Toler and the winner of the Chauncey-Robertson match and Armstrong and the winner of the Edwards-Walthew match.

NOTES AND GOSSIP.

The two weeks' trotting meeting at Denver continues to be almost the sole topt: among horsemen. It is everybody's opinion that no such meeting was ever seen so early in the season, and the number of sensational trotters and pacers that sprang into prominence there has seldom, if ever, been equalled at any season on any track.

In addition to the many remarkable records that ful stories are told of the trials shown by some of for the cannaign in the Grand Circuit. Anaconds, Chebuits and Kate Medium paced a working-out mile together in 2:561; moving the last half in 1:562, and Searchlight turned the track in 2:554.

Searchlight is believed by those who saw him at Denver to be the coming pacer. He goes without boots or artificial rigging of any sort, and, although books of artificial rigging of any sort, and, although he is only a four-year-old, it is said that he can carry his wonderful flight of speed as far as any aged horse now on the turf. He is entered in the 2:10 class all through the Grand Circuit, and he heams to have all the early closing stakes in which he is satered at his mercy.

The European trotting record was lowered to 2:10% by the American horse Que Allen in a race at Vienna a few days ago. Athanio, who finished second to Que Allen, trotted the mile in 2:10%. Senator A. in 2:12% and Colonel Kuser in 2:12%. All of the starters were stallions bred in the United of the stariers were stallions bred in the United States. Que Allen was sold at auction at Madison Square Garden last winter for $6,700, and was exported by Henry A. Fleischman. He was driven at Vienna by the old-time American reinsman Horace Brown, who formerly trained for C. J. Hamlin. The winner made a record of 200% at Portland, Me., last season.

Marcus Daly's string of trotters left Anaconda, Mont, last week in charge of "Ben" Kenny, the young Kentuckian who brought out Nancy Hanks (2.94). They are now at Cleveland, where they will remain until the Fort Wayne meeting in the Grand Circuit. In the lot are Limerick (2:39%), the Grand Circuit. In the lot are Limited at 2.24, three-year-old by Prodignal that is matched to trot at Goshen in August against E. H. Harriman's Elsie S. (2.22%) for $5,000; Improvidence (2.20%, a brother to the sensational Montana trotter Quaint (2.14%), and a number of fast two-year-olds and three-year-olds by Prodignal (2.16).

one. There are several disputed points to come up, and some warm discussions are expected.

New-York pulled away from Philadelphia yesterday and now leads its nearest rival by 18 points.

The times are bad for all the minor leagues. It is expected that a reduction of players' salaries of at least 20 per cent will be decided upon at a special meeting of the Eastern League to be held at Toron-to early next week. The club owners says the war has burt the attendance everywhere.

Pitcher Sullivan, who was recently released by the New-York club and signed by Kansas City, has been released by the latter club. Sullivan pitched six games for the Cowleys, winning three of them. He refused to accept a transfer to the Omaha Club.

The game yesterday was the first New-York has

YACHTS AND YACHTSMEN.

The Scawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club announces that its annual Corinthian race, which was postponed from June 25 to June 29, and again postponed on account of the death of Colonel S. V. It. Cruger, will be sailed on July 14.

Nearly all the hoats that are being raced here this season were either built in the East or are the chased winners of last year's Boston races. By the will of Miss Barr the college receives $2,569 for scholarships. From the estate of Henry L. Plerce comes the gift of $29,00. The Cantabrista Club has raised a certain sum for a scholarship, to be perfected later on, and the alumns of the college has donated $5,000 for a scholarship. The "Annex 25 Club" set out to raise a fund of $6,000 for a home for Radeliffe students, and up to the beginning of the war was doing well, but last week came the announcement to the club that Mrs. David P. Kimball had sent a check for the whole amount of $5,000 to the club.

Baltimore, July 1 (Special). Senator Wellington and his friends to-lay attribute his defeat for chairman of the Republican State Committee to treachery. Her first effort was made in the Suffolk County Surrogate's Court before Surrogate Nathan D. Petty. The Surrogate ruled against her. An action was brought before the Supreme Court in which she sought to have the executors of the estate removed, alleging that they were not looking after the estate as they should. In this court, also, the decision was against Mrs. Borrowe. An appeal was then taken to the Appellate Division, which has now unanimously affirmed the decision of the Supreme Court.

The mule was dragging a cart overloaded with bananas, and the combined heat and weight served to in rease his indeen thredness. The negro driver was tired, too, and the slow jogsing of the animal soothed him to sleep.

Just in front of the Criminal Court Building the mule noticed a lessened tension on the lines and squatted down directly in front of an approaching car. The motorman dismounted, discovered the driver's condition, and roused him from slumber.

"Here! get that mule of yourn off the track," he said.

"Here! get that mule of yourn off the track," he said.

"Tain't no use to try, boss," he answered, "take er notion ter stop, 'tain't nothin' can start her. She gwine stay right plum whar she is."

The motorman did not stop to argue the proposition. He had probably had some experience with mules on hot summer days. He returned to the car, removed the fender and then quiely released the motor. The car darted forwarded, struck the wagen from the rear, and mule, wagon and driver were carried forward several feet by the suddense ness of the charge. The animal pricked up its ears, jumped to its feet and made for the side of the street in a hurry. The carload of passengers went on their way rejoicing, and the last thing they heard was the driver's remark that "for puttin' ginger into a mule dem lickrice cahs beats anything I eber seed."

FIERCE FIGHT WITH RATS. ORIO FARMER'S PERILOUS ENCOUNTER WITH A

MOB OF SAVAGE RODENTS. Oak Harbor (Ohio) correspondence of The Toledo News.

News.

News reached this city to-day, through Frank Mattison, of Ottawa County, who is spending a few days in the city, of a lively battle in which Henry Johannson, who resides on a farm about four miles northeast from the hamlet of Maple Shade, in Ottawa County, and about fifteen miles cast of this city, participated on Saturday.

Mr. Johannson was on the defensive side, which have composed of two while the for numbered east of this city, participated on Saturday.

Mr. Johannson was on the defensive side, which was composed of two, while the foe numbered probably forty, not Spaniards, but rats of a very large and ferocious variety.

Mr. Johannson had gone to a remote part of the farm to remove some corn cobs from a corn crib and had taken with him a faithful shepherd dog, to catch any rats that might be about. Mr. Johannson entered with the dog and closed the door after him. Immediately a large rat peered out from behind a lump of dirt, and others appeared, until Mr. Johannson was surrounded by a mass of fighting, squealing rodents, which made a feroclous attack upon him and the dog, scratching and biting them severely.

One or two bolder ones succeeded in climbing on Mr. Johannson's shoulders while he was engaged in doing battle with the others, and began gnawing and stratching at his back in a savage manner. Mr. Johannson attempted to take off his coat, thinking he could fight better, and had succeeded in getting it partly off, when one of the rats made a spring at his throat and began gnawing so earnestly that Mr. Johannson thought his time had come. His hands were fastened in the coat and he could not extricate himself and fight at the same time. For a second it looked as though the ever-increasing foe would be victorious. No one was near, if Mr. Johannson should call, and with his hands behind him in the coat and a rat at his throat the situation appeared very dubiaus.

During this time the dog had been kept very busy

Mr. Johannson slowly worked his way to the door and finally succeeded in opening it and releasing himself, with about a dozen of the enemy at the same time, which made their escape. The dog was left in the crib to dispatch as many more as possible, while Mr. Johannson, suffering intensely from the poisonous bites and scratches he had received, went for assistance.

Returning as soon as possible, Mr. Johannson found that the dog had killed twenty of the enemy, and a number of others were afterward killed or frightened away. The dog had been bitten several times, but remained plucky to the last.

Mr. Johannson visited a physician, who dressed his wounds, and, although they are quite painful, it is thought the case is not serious. Mr. Johannson considers himself fortunate in escaping at all from his terrible experience, and in the future will beware of so daring and ferocious an enemy, unless properly equipped to do battle successfully.

A PRACTICAL JOKER PUNISHED. From the Philadelphia Record.

From the Philadelphia Record.

A "practical" joker, well known downtown, is at present taking a good, hard dose of his own medicine. About two weeks ago he packed a drygoods box with old shoes, empty the cans and other rubbish and sent it off to Tampa Pia, consigned to one of the companies of the 3d Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, with express charges collect. The soldier boys thought it was a box of supplies sent by some kind friends, and giadly paid the charges. Their chagrin in discovering the contents of the box may be imagined. But they have since been turning the tables with a vengeance. They learned the name of the joker, and for a week past nearly every man in the company has been writing a letter of thanks every day to the sender of the box. The letters are mailed with the soldiers' privilege of sending mall without stamps, postage to be collected from the receiver. The "joker" is paying about $2 a day in postage for the letters of thanks he is receiving, and he's wondering how much longer they will continue to come.
